I chose this design because through this design I want to send a message of international peace and harmony. The dove carrying the olive branch is a symbol of peace and the globe in the background is a symbol that this message of peace is to be sent across the world. In this process I have learnt that many interesting designs can be created using graphs. Sometimes it is very difficult to get a design in mind onto the screen using graphs. So it's really challenging thing how you choose your graphs for the purpose.
