Tortoise is well known as a sign of long life expectancy due to its long life span. Also I choose to create a tortoise because my very first pet is actually a tortoise. The tortoise shown here has its freedom as it is crawling along the beach freely even though it seems tired and exhausted. Although it is slow in its motion, a tortoise shows unlimited determination and perseverance in whatever it does. i have learned the various uses of parametric and polar equation. I learn that both types of equation do have their advantages and disadvantages in different areas.
