

HARISH RAJA, 2SO1B
RAFFLES JUNIOR COLLEGE

A postcard of England was my inspiration for making this design. The design features a man sailing on a river, presumably the Thames. In the making of the design I learnt the flexibility of the graphic calculator in allowing one to bring on print one's imagination without having to go through the elaborate process of actually drawing. Though the process was challenging, I achieved a sense of satisfaction when I completed this assignment.