

LIU CAN, 05S33
VICTORIA JUNIOR COLLEGE

I chose this design because I discovered an interesting equation that produces the head of the insect. Its legs and bodies are obtained by simple polar curves with some trimming, removing unnecessary details. By learning how to apply different kinds of coordinate systems, the graphic calculator helps me to depict this scene. I have also learnt how polar equations and parametric equations can be converted to one another.