Following this year's theme-fashion, I have designed a woman's handbag which generally based on flower theme. I chose handbag design as I think almost every woman carries a handbag and it is therefore a significant and attractive item for a woman.

I think the most important thing I have learnt is using different polar curves to generate patterns on the handbag, including rose, butterfly and snowflakes. I also learnt how to change the type of measure, degree and radian, so that I can get different type of beautiful curve.
