

JANE MARSHA HARTONO, 4G
METHODIST GIRLS' SCHOOL

Inspired by a spirited manga about American football, I drew this design to depict many great mathematicians who had contributed greatly to the society and yet still continue to seek more about Mathematics devotedly. I represent this by drawing an American football player running with the ball towards the goal post passionately (he runs so fast there is smoke around him). I have learnt to appreciate Mathematics, which we seem to take for granted, and also my Mathematics teacher for teaching us with passion.