I make this design to express my fondness for skiing. I observe that skiing is a combination of concentration, stability and energy. Besides, the tender movement of the skiers together with the white snow combines to form a beauty of art inside a sport. Sports and arts are two aspects prominent in our life. So, I decided to draw a combination of both of them.

I familiarized myself with the using of graphic calculator. Even though it was tedious, I found it enjoyable also to find many equations to form desirable shapes. I have learnt some polar equations which give a unique pattern upon making the heart shape.
