The Fuwa, personified as five children representing the Chinese Traditional Elements, are the mascots of Beijing Olympic. Their names collectively form the phrase “Beijing welcomes you”. The one I have drawn is “Jingjing”, whose prototype is the panda, lifting weight. We can learn many from sports, including this spirit of perseverance demonstrated by Jingjing, and apply them in our lives such as in doing a research.

Moreover, I learn how I can draw a line segment and a discontinuous parabola through the use of logic and inequality operators. I also learnt to draw the reflection of a function about y-axis.
