Conquering Mount Everest which is the highest mountain on the earth has long been a dream for human beings. To most people, climbing to such a height is an extreme challenge. I choose this design in order to show one of the most brilliant feat ever by humans- taking the flaming Olympic torch to the altitude of 8848m. With the timeless Olympic spirit, this feat most clearly shows the significance of sports and sportsmanship in this world. They bring people together. They provide people with courage, physical ability and intelligence to make our society a more healthy and energetic one.
