I was inspired by the recent success of a Chinese lady player at the Wimbledon Tennis Open. This picture shows a person playing tennis. It has been a great success and I want to use my own way to make this moment memorable. Therefore I came out with this design of her playing tennis. This is a capture of the moment when she swung her racket and the tennis ball flew out. The ball seemed to be bigger than the actual size because it was nearer to the audience and this effect makes the picture looks better.

I learned many things from the DRAW menu which I spent many hours exploring them.

But the most important life-skill I learned from this work is that with perseverance and effort , I can come out with something that I can never imagine I can do it.
