

TOUCHAPHOL THREECHITDHANACHAI, INNOVA JUNIOR COLLEGE

This is a clash between the IJC spaceship and the GC planet. I chose this design to show my explosion of passion in mathematics by the GC. The seemingly random lines radiating from the middle of the picture gives the picture a 3-D feel, as if the reading from a book. Throughout the whole process I learnt plenty of new ways to use my graphic calculator, ways I have never used it before. This project had reignited my love for the beauty of graphs I had lost long ago.
